THE WITAN

The Rainbow Edition

Charlotte High School
Rochester, New York

Our Principal

Mr. Glenn M. Denison

February 5, 1953

Both in scripture and in folklore, the rainbow symbolizes a promise. May each of you 1953 graduates fulfill your promise by being true to what you have learned in your homes and in your school.

You go out into a confused and confusing world. Uncertainty is the pattern of the times. Decisions are difficult.

But basic values do not change. Truth, decency, respect for self and others — these do not lose their meaning. We can make our decisions on the basis of the best that we know and feel. Then we can face the most uncertain future with confidence, and without fear or shame.

Glenn M. Denison

To Our Friend and Guide . . .

Dr. James S. Wishart

Dr. Wishart earned both his Bachelor of Arts and his Master of Science degrees at the University of Rochester. He then went on to Princeton University where he obtained his Master of Arts and his Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

His interest in geology took him into neighboring states and parts of Canada including Labrador, Ontario, and Quebec, where he served as a geologist.

After that experience he returned to Rochester where he held the positions of teacher, counselor, and boys' adviser at John Marshall High School. He is a lecturer in geology at the University of Rochester.

In September of 1946 he came to Charlotte High School as Vice-Principal. Since then he has become both a counselor and a second father to boys and girls alike.

The members of the Class of 1953 proudly dedicate this Rainbow edition of the Witan to Dr. James S. Wishart.

Charlotte High School

By waters of Ontario,
Beside the Genesee,
In grace and quiet beauty
Charlotte will ever be
A beacon glowing in our lives,
An ever-living flame;
We hail you, Alma Mater,
We praise your noble name.

Your fame will spread across the years,
If we stand firm and true;
As you enlarge our wisdom
We grow in honor, too;
And when we go beyond your halls
Our destinies to fill,
To you, our Alma Mater,
We shall be faithful still.

Words by
Claude T. Westburg

Music by
Kenneth B. Waide

"To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high."

FEATURES

Our Teen Age Diplomat

Many Americans realize that they know very little about other countries of the world, especially those that speak a different language. They also realize that ignorance breeds misunderstanding, suspicion, fear, and hate. These things must be overcome if the people of the world are to live peaceably together. With the help of the United Nations and the American Field Service, the Rochester section of the Association of Teen Age Diplomats has been able to place fourteen boys and girls from various other countries in American homes. Ingerid Jacobsen, of Oslo, Norway, has spent the school year 1952-1953 with the Barnitz family.

"Walk together, talk together, Oh Ye Peoples of the earth:
Then, shall ye know one another and have Peace." —Sanskrit

This saying is the heart of the Association for Teen-Age Diplomats.

Friends From Across the Sea

Eva Maria Graf, now living with her aunt and uncle in Rochester, came to the United States from Zella-Mehlis, a small town in the Eastern Zone of Germany. She came to further her education and to make her home here. Eva is a post graduate at Charlotte. Living in the United States, she will help create international friendship and a realization that we are all neighbors and that we all have common goals in life. What better diplomat could any nation have? Eva is considering becoming a nurse.

Hanna Werk came to the United States to live with her father in Rochester. She is enrolled in Charlotte as a post graduate. Coming from Berlin, Germany, Hanna is well acquainted with the problems her native land faces. Germany, a land divided between Communistic and Democratic followers, is truly representative of the current world struggle. She will be instrumental in the promotion of better understanding between the old world and the new. Hanna is planning to become a nurse.

WHISTLE STOP

OCTOBER 23, 1952

During the 1952 political campaigns both presidential candidates visited Rochester. Several members of the P.A.D. class received passes to the candidates' platform and observed the election scenes at close range.

P.A.D. class members also worked for the candidates, both local and national, by preparing phone lists, attending and serving at rallies and doing house-to-house campaigning.

After the election we paid our election bets by wheeling each other around in wheelbarrows. Our city fathers decided that Rochester's "Read . . . Think . . . Vote!" campaign had been partly responsible for the large vote which Rochesterians turned in.

Think . . . Vote!

Citizens

Trans-lake conducted two week-long experiments in international living this year. During November, thirteen students from Northern Vocational School, Toronto, Canada studied our election first-hand by living a week with Charlotte students and attending classes with them.

In March a Charlotte delegation went to Toronto to complete the experiment.

In February, under the co-sponsorship of State Senator Frank Van Lare and State Assemblyman Thomas Riley, the P.A.D. class went to Albany to observe the state government in action.

The Home Planners

In the first year of the Home Economics course, the girls learn the important fundamentals in the necessary field of foods and clothing. The second year is devoted to child care and home nursing. During the third year, study centers about what a good hostess needs to know.

The final year of this course is spent on advanced clothing. The girls make dresses, blouses, etc., for themselves, and study textiles. Every girl can profit by such a course.

Through its publication of tickets, folders, placards, and programs, the print shop is very much involved in the life of the school. The printers keep us up to date on what is going on about Charlotte.

Here the Senior boys, under Mr. Lee's direction, are printing the divider pages for the 1953 Witan. Bill Kaiser and Carl DeMersman are running the rainbow tint block.

The Galley Slaves

The Craftsmen

We regret that Mr. Walker, the Art Craft instructor, was home ill at the time the Witan group pictures were taken. Mr. Link is shown supervising the work during his absence. The shop works in leather, metal, and wood.

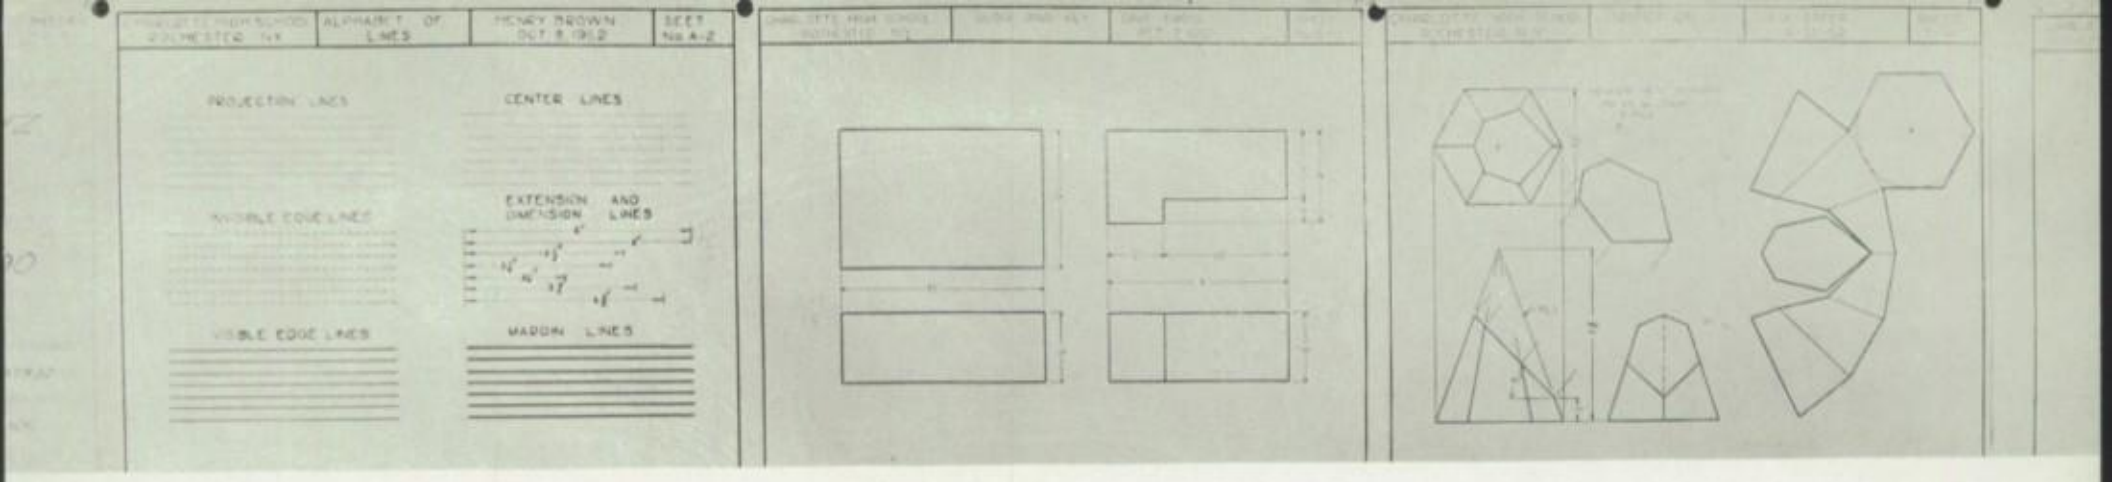
The panel shows one of the shelves from a permanent display cabinet in the Art Craft shop.

Cynthia Gildea poses for portrait and figure drawing for a senior art class.

Mr. Booth, in background, observes the work of various students and helps them with aesthetic and practical problems.

The panel shows samples of Art work: two conceptions of a baseball player, a modern wire and a realistic clay; various works in plaster sculpture; and a still life painting with the arrangement from which it was drawn.

The Artists



Design for Tomorrow

In our early years this busy shop was included in the exploratory course in which we all participated. Some of us decided on the course immediately. Others took an academic course and later, with engineering or some such vocation in mind, included a year or two of this popular course in our schedule.

Of course, many of us will never use the direct knowledge gained there, but the habits of neatness and precision, which Mr. Pinder has instilled in us, are something we shall not soon forget.

The Green Thumbs

Mr. Kumpf and Mr. Lieberman are instructors of the only vocational horticulture classes in Rochester.

Members of these classes participate in experimental projects such as cultivation of plants in artificial light and of various species like the orchids pictured above. The classes conduct annual sales of the plants and flowers grown here, in order to gain practical experience in this field.

Since the field of Clerical Work is so varied, any course offered in such a field also must cover a considerable amount of ground.

Elementary to advanced Typing, Shorthand, and Bookkeeping are offered as well as courses in Business Machines and Office Practice.

It is from these classes that the Office Assistants, who help so much in the daily routine in the office, get their practical experience.

Amanuenses

Gentlemen's Day

As a result of the accusation that they did not have any respect for the girls during the school hours, the boys became overly courteous, dressing in their Sunday best, stepping aside to let a girl pass, greeting them favorably with the title of "Miss," and finally, being the nicest of gentlemen at their tables in the lunchroom.

You should have seen the ladies outdo the "gentlemen" the next day!

Just six short years ago, Mr. William Quenan came to Charlotte High School. Yet, in that brief period "Bill" has become one of the most popular members of our faculty.

He is well liked chiefly because of his ability to take our problems as his own and advise accordingly. In this way he has become sort of a big brother to us all.

In saying farewell to you Mr. Quenan, the Senior Class also gives you the heartiest of thanks for all that you have done for us.

National Honor Society

W. Reed, Mr. Westburg, D. Bryce.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Fifteen per cent of the Senior Class may be elected to the National Honor Society on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service to the school. To be eligible for consideration, a student must be in the upper third of his class scholastically and in either his junior or his senior year.

Classmates and teachers both vote for the candidates. The election usually comes so late in the year that only the members elected in their Junior year are shown in the Witan.

Commercial Honor Society

1st row — M. A. Shaw, Mrs. Frost, 2nd row — A. Vannicola, G. DeFrank, D. Peper, C. Malcho, S. Edmondson, J. Loth, N. Cook, Norma Finzer, President, is absent from the picture.

1922 Harmer Davis
1923 Roger Butterfield

From 1924 to 1935 there were two year books a year, January and June, because we had two graduating classes.

1924 Norman R. Coons — Helen Pye
1925 Lois Speares — Philip Gordon
1926 Baxter Waterhouse — Elizabeth Brown
1927 Marguerite Heydweiller — Teresa Rapp
1928 Dorothy Doell — George Taylor
1929 Harrison Grotzinger — Mary Heydweiller
1930 Hazel Isaac — Florence Sparks
1931 Susanne Bogorad — Julia Van Dam
1932 Violet Rentschler — Elizabeth Donoghue
1933 Ray Dudley — Ruth Gordon
1934 Jean White — Charles Livermore

From 1935 to 1939 there was a separate January and June section but only one book.

We Bow

THE WITAN 1920-1953

In 1920 when the original Witan Staff was appointed, the name was chosen from a list of sixty suggestions submitted by the C. H. S. students. It means "the Elders" or the wise counselors, and the publication was originally, through its editorial pages, a policy or opinion forming agency. This phase of its activity was taken over by the Student Council when it was organized a year or two later.

At first "The Witan" was issued six times a year as a literary magazine and the Yearbook was a separate publication, each year with a different name such as "The Aurora," "The Elite," etc. In 1924 the two were merged and published four times a year, the January and the June issues being senior numbers. For ten years this policy was in effect, but in 1934 the expense of publication was mounting so high that the January and June Classes put out a joint yearbook. (In 1920-30 the cost of the annual ranged from $300 to $350. The Rainbow Edition (1953) is costing about $2500.)

Methods of financing have been many and diverse. The senior candy sale, originally undertaken to meet our annual $50 pledge to The Memorial Scholarship Fund, became so lucrative that the surplus was turned over to The Witan, as were also the proceeds of the annual senior play. Our present Co-op method is a much better plan.

At this point Mr. Lee and I terminate our thirty-three years of direct association with "The Witan;" we shall never lose our interest in its welfare or the memories of the fun and headaches we have shared with fifty-one staffs.

Above is a list of fifty-one editors who have headed those staffs and on three occasions won second or third rank in our class in the Columbia National Scholastic Press Conference.

Out

Fifty one Editors and their staffs have given me a liberal education in thirty years.

— Joyce E. Sharer

If they've done all that for you, WHAT have they done for me!

— John W. Lee

Mr. John W. Lee

Being one of the advisers for the Witan has been, to me, one of the outstanding features of my years at Charlotte High School. Meeting and working with the different groups has always been something to look forward to.

It has been a pleasure, always, to work with these young people and watch their development in the mysteries of producing a yearbook and to watch their careers during the years that followed, because it seemed that this experience was but a stepping-stone to something better.

I look back on many happy years as co-adviser to the Witan staffs of the past, and wish for my successor many just as happy years in the future.
